Ms Lindros is the Manager of Obesity Initiatives at the American Academy of Pediatrics. As such she is the primary staff person for the Obesity Leadership Workgroup, a team of physician leaders and executive staff who sets the obesity agenda and priorities for the Academy. In addition, she oversees a majority of the obesity initiatives at the Academy. Sample current projects include the Alliance Healthcare Initiative in partnership with the Alliance for a Healthier Generation and the American Dietetic Association, the Mobilizing Healthcare Providers as Champions to Fight Obesity Project in partnership with the National Initiative for Children's Healthcare Quality, and the Pediatrics and Parents as Partners for Healthy Active Living in partnership with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Ms Lindros has her Masters in Public Health with a concentration in Health Education and Health Behavior from the University of Michigan. She has been with the Academy since 2003 and prior to that was an ATPM fellow and Health Communications Contractor at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.
